

Post-Doctoral Fellowship in Neuroscience

WOFFORD COLLEGE

Wofford College invites applications for a two-year post-doctoral fellowship in the Department of Psychology to assist with responsibilities associated with an awarded NIH grant, "Roles for Glucosensors in Taste Function." Primary expectations include conducting neurophysiological recordings of afferent gustatory signals in a mouse animal model, training and supervising undergraduate student researchers and managing the neuroscience laboratory.

QUALIFICATIONS:

A doctoral degree and research experience with a rodent animal model is required for appointment.

APPLICATION:

Application materials should be emailed to Dr. Dave Pittman (pittmandw@wofford.edu). Application materials include: (1) a cover letter, (2) curriculum vitae, and (3) contact information for minimally three professional references. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Selected qualified candidates will be contacted for an interview (either in person or via Zoom).

ABOUT WOFFORD COLLEGE:

Wofford College, established in 1854, is a private liberal arts residential college located a few blocks north of downtown Spartanburg, South Carolina. Wofford offers 27 major fields of study to a student body of nearly 1,800 undergraduates and is nationally known for the strength of its academic program, outstanding faculty and study abroad participation. Wofford is home to one of the nation's 290 Phi Beta Kappa chapters. The college community supports 19 NCAA Division I athletics teams and numerous student organizations, including honor societies, professional organizations, faith-based organizations, club sports and three publications.

ABOUT SPARTANBURG:

Spartanburg is located in upstate South Carolina, 30 miles east of Greenville, South Carolina, an hour from Charlotte, North Carolina, and three hours east of Atlanta, Georgia. Historic Charleston and the South Carolina coast are three hours away, and Wofford sits an hour south of the artistic, culinary hub of Asheville, North Carolina. Spartanburg is a growing, diverse community that supports six college and university campuses along with numerous civic arts and cultural associations. It became the first city in South Carolina to join the Government Alliance on Race and Equity and, in 2012, became one of five cities nationally to participate in the 10-year Wellville program, a national nonprofit initiative dedicated to improving equitable well-being in U.S. cities. Spartanburg and Wofford partner on multiple community equity initiatives, including the Northside Initiative, which has brought together a diverse group of citizens to revitalize a neighborhood in ways that don't reproduce the harm of earlier urban renewal programs.

EEO STATEMENT:

Wofford College values diversity within our students, faculty and staff, and strives to recruit, develop and retain the most talented people. Wofford College does not discriminate in employment on the bases of race, color, creed, religion, sex (including pregnancy or childbirth or related medical conditions including but not limited to lactation) sexual orientation, transgender status, gender identity, age,
