Class of 1972

The Class of 1972 celebrated the 50th reunion of their graduation during Commencement weekend. They were treated to a few of their own special events and were recognized during the college's Baccalaureate Service and Commencement exercises.

Wofford's fallen

Wofford has 102 alumni who died in battle dating back to World War I.

Memorial Day weekend is a time to remember the women and men who made the ultimate sacrifice for the United States while serving in the armed forces. Wofford College has 102 alumni who died in battle dating back to World War I. U.S. Army Major Gen. Jeff Jones was the guest speaker during the college's Commissioning Ceremony this past Commencement weekend. He mentioned the names of a few alumni who were killed in battle.

Read more about the college's military history and watch a 2020 video with Wofford ROTC reading the names of each of the college's alumni killed in action.

Summer School

There's still time to register for Summer School. The first day of class for the first term is Monday, June 6. Current Wofford students, new first-year students and non-Wofford students can attend summer school on campus. Find all of the information that you need for summer school, including classes offered.

Baseball enters SoCon Tournament as No. 1 seed

The Terriers enter the Southern Conference Baseball Tournament as the No. 1 seed.

The Wofford baseball team enters the Southern Conference Tournament as the No. 1 seed when it faces No. 4 UNC Greensboro at 9 a.m. Friday at Fluor Field in Greenville. The game will also be broadcast by ESPN+.

Eleven Terriers received all-conference recognition (a college record). Coach Todd Intedonato was named coach of the year and catcher Lawson Hill '21, a fifth-year senior, was named player of the year. The team earned its second consecutive conference title after finishing 16-4-1 in the conference and 40-14-1 overall. Forty wins is a team record.

Earlier this week, Ryan Galanie '23 was named the SoCon's Baseball Player of the Week.

Jesse Cole '06 and the Savannah Bananas featured on HBO

Jesse Cole '06 is a former pitcher on the Terriers baseball team, and he's the owner of the Savanna Bananas, a professional travel squad focused on making baseball more entertaining with different rules to speed up play. Cole's brand of baseball was featured on HBO's "Real Sports with Bryant Gumbel" earlier this week. It can be viewed on the HBO Max app. The team also will be the focus of an ESPN+ documentary-style series this summer.
