Adjunct German Instructor

Wofford College invites applications for a part-time adjunct instructor to teach two sections of beginning and intermediate German in the fall 2022 and spring 2023 semesters.

QUALIFICATIONS:
Appointment requires a master’s degree in German, German studies, German as a second language or a master’s degree in a related field plus 18 graduate-level hours in German. Experience teaching German at the college level and other related German-speaking or German cultural immersion experiences (i.e., extensive teaching experience or time abroad in a German-speaking region, etc.) are highly desired. The candidate also will hold office hours for each course and engage in German program events that attract and retain students to the German program.

APPLICATION:
Application materials should be emailed to Dr. Kirsten Krick-Aigner, coordinator of German, at krickaignerka@wofford.edu. Application materials include: (1) a letter of interest, (2) resume or curriculum vitae, including references, and (3) a statement of your teaching philosophy.

ABOUT WOFFORD COLLEGE:
Wofford College, established in 1854, is a four-year, residential liberal arts college located in Spartanburg, South Carolina. It offers 27 major fields of study to a student body of 1,775 undergraduates. Nationally known for the strength of its academic program, outstanding faculty, experiential learning opportunities and successful graduates, Wofford is recognized consistently as a “best value” and for its commitment to student success and accessibility for low- and middle-income students.
