Adjunct Instructor of Finance

Wofford College invites applications for an adjunct instructor of finance in the Department of Accounting, Business and Finance.

EXPECTATIONS

The adjunct instructor of finance will teach one to two undergraduate courses each semester in the fall or spring. Classes are taught in-person during the day. Wofford does not offer online courses in finance. We seek instructors for courses in financial management, investments, corporate finance, real estate finance, international finance or banking. For more information about these courses, visit wofford.edu/academics/majors-and-programs/accounting-business-and-finance.

QUALIFICATIONS

A master's degree and extensive industry experience is required for appointment. A doctoral degree and experience teaching college are preferred.

APPLICATION

Application materials can be emailed to professor Diane Farley (farleyds@wofford.edu). Application materials should include: (1) a cover letter, (2) curriculum vitae, and (3) contact information for two to three references. Selected qualified candidates will be contacted for an interview (either in person or via Zoom) and teaching demonstration. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

ABOUT WOFFORD COLLEGE
