ADJUNCT LECTURER OF PSYCHOLOGY

Wofford College invites applications for an adjunct lecturer in the Department of Psychology for fall 2023 and spring 2024 to teach Introduction to Psychological Science. There is a lab associated with the course that uses a shared curriculum across sections. The lab requires data collection using Biopac, analysis and graphing using Excel, and APA style write-up on two projects. As is typical of small liberal arts colleges, our class size for labs has a maximum of 24 students. Given the small nature of our classes, our lectures tend to be interactive and include discussion. This is an ideal position for an ABD candidate interested in obtaining more extensive teaching experience to prepare for a career in academia, especially at a small liberal arts college.

QUALIFICATIONS

A master's degree and one year of recent college-level teaching is required for appointment. A doctoral degree and more extensive teaching background is preferred.

APPLICATION

Application materials can be emailed to Dr. Cecile Nowatka (nowatkacm@wofford.edu). Application materials include: (1) a cover letter, (2) curriculum vitae, and (3) contact information for 2-3 references. Selected qualified candidates will be contacted for an interview (either in person or via Zoom) and teaching demonstration. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.
